Dear H

FREEDOM OF INFORMATION – ICT CONTACTS

I write in response to your request for information in relation to ICT contacts

Question:

1. The name and job title of the most senior officer responsible for ICT, digital and technology (for example the Chief Information Officer, Chief Digital Officer, Head of ICT or equivalent), and the business email address and business telephone number published or used for that role.
2. The name and job title of the officer responsible for the delivery of ICT, network and business-systems projects, if that is a different person, with the same business contact details.
3. The name and job title of the officer who owns the organisation's telephony and network contracts, if that is a different person again.

Answer:

NHS Lothian has a policy of not releasing the names and details of staff below a senior level. This is considered exempt under Section 38(1)(b) of the Freedom of Information (Scotland) Act 2002 – personal information.

We only ever give out the details of the Digital & IT Director, and he would be responsible for these.
